

Road Trip Sanity - Keys to Organization

If you are like most families, you spend a good portion of the day in your car driving the kids from activity to activity. I have found some ways to keep everything organized and neat at all times. Now I no longer have to spend time cleaning out the car before a big road trip family vacation and actually find myself enjoying time in my car.

Click here to see how to remain clutter-free and sane at the same time!